Gleaning for Ag Against Hunger

The program is simple. When growers have a surplus they notify Ag Against Hunger. Our truck collects the produce from over 50 different growers and shippers in the tri-county area. It is then distributed to food banks that make our fresh produce donations available to more than 280 nonprofit human service agencies and feeds almost 120,000 low-income people in the tri-county area each month and hundreds of thousands more throughout California and the West Coast.

Click here for a full chart showing where produce donations go.
