

► ANGERS

Angers is a university town located in a tourist region renowned for the purity of the French spoken there. A medium-sized city with a young population where innovation leads the way, Angers has many assets: lots of green spaces, a rich cultural heritage, and a TGV high-speed train service to Paris (1:30hrs) and the Roissy CDG airport (2:20hrs). The train station is only a 10-minute walk from the university

► SPORTS AND CULTURAL ACTIVITIES

Alongside the training course proper, the CIDEF team coordinates FREE daily activities, sport competitions, a film club, theme parties, etc.

An international party is organized during each summer course (do not hesitate to bring traditional costumes from your country!).

DELVE INTO FRENCH LANGUAGE AND CULTURE

Created in 1947, CIDEF is the Institute of French as a Foreign Language at the Université Catholique de l'Ouest in Angers, France. Each year, over 1,500 foreign students and teachers from at least sixty non French- speaking countries come to study on our campus.

SUMMER 2013

► CHOOSE YOUR SUMMER COURSE FROM THREE PROGRAMMES

■ Intensive courses for all age groups and levels

MONTH	ARRIVAL	PLACEMENT TEST	DEPARTURE	HOURS
July	1st July	2nd July	27th July	80 h
August	5th August	6th August	31st August	80 h
September	2nd September	3rd September	28th September	90 h

Students will be met at the train station between 9.00 am and 10.30 pm on the day of arrival.

At 8.30 am on the next day a general meeting will take place in the René Bazin building followed by level tests. In the afternoon, students will be offered a guided tour of the university and of Angers.

Classes start the next morning.

■ Course for teachers of French as a foreign language

Arrival on 1 July / departure on 27 July.

90 hours to be chosen from the programme (see following page).

■ Tailor-made courses for groups

► GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF COURSES

So as to develop everyone's knowledge and skills in the best conditions possible, every language class calls on state-of-the-art teaching techniques and methods. Groups are small (about 20 students) and divided into two subgroups for oral practice and multimedia laboratory hours.

Student can meet regularly with the head of education. They can also use a self-learning programme called Cid@f that was developed by our teachers for students to work on a non-formal interactive basis.

French graduate students - called "moniteurs" in French, meaning instructors - trained to teach French as a foreign language conduct oral skills classes and language lab hours. They provide students with permanent assistance in a friendly atmosphere.

 Available at beginner and elementary levels

The aim of the survey is to encourage students to meet French people. The survey necessarily bears on France and French people today. Students collect information in their own personal way through conversations and exchanges. The survey findings are presented in written form or orally.

In September, the advanced level course is particularly recommended for those intending to take classes alongside French students during the regular academic year.

NB: Because of the considerable number of contact hours and personal work, students are advised not to have a part time job or to work as an au pair during the course. Class attendance is mandatory.

► COURSE FOR TEACHERS: COURSE CONTENT

Language proficiency: oral comprehension and expression; written comprehension and expression; colloquial French; phonetics...

Methodology: current trends in French as a foreign language (DELF, DALF, CEFR or Common European Framework of Reference for Languages); ICT (multimedia laboratories; pedagogical tasks, sequences and resources); use of various types of documents (comic books, fairy tales, documentaries from TV5 Channel); meetings with teachers.

Aspects of modern France: gastronomy, education, the Anjou region, teenagers, contemporary songs, health and social protection in France.

Literature and contemporary geopolitics.

► DIPLOMAS

Intensive course: Each student who has attended the whole course and successfully completed the continuous assessment assignments will be awarded a certificate.

NB: Your grades can be recognized officially by several foreign universities. Students can get credits for the summer programme if previously agreed with their home university.

Course for teachers: a certificate including a detailed description of the course will be awarded to each participant who has attended regularly and has successfully completed the practical assignments of the course (it is possible to obtain credits).
